F38 Emergency motion: Implementing the Recommendations of the Grenfell Tower Inquiry Phase 2 Report

Hall Aide: Duncan Brack.

17 members Mover: Fraser Graham. Summation: Hina Bokhari AM.

1 Conference notes:

i)	The publication on 4th September 2024 of The Grenfell
	Tower Inquiry Phase 2 report that contains important
::)	recommendations covering multiple areas.
11)	That in the 7 years since the Grenfell Tower Fire, the Grenfell community have repeatedly called for justice, as the Metropolitan Police and CPS have delayed the conclusion of their investigations pending the inquiry's conclusion.
111)	The fire's disproportionate impact on ethnic minority communities and the Grenfell community's unsuccessful call for the inquiry to investigate the role played by institutional Racism.
iv)	That construction industry reform in response to the fire has been ongoing, but the report has highlighted key areas for further reform.
V)	The report's recommendations regarding building standards and guidance refer to England and Wales; Scotland and Northern Ireland building regulations are devolved matters.
vi)	The continued resilience of the Grenfell community, including victims, their families, and those from the surrounding area, as well as the overwhelming support and kindness shown by the public in response to the fire.
Cor	ference believes that:
Α.	Independent and comprehensive public inquiries enable lessons to be learned from disasters such as this, and it is vital that their recommendations be reviewed and actioned.
Β.	As the report stated, earlier and more comprehensive implementation of lessons learned from previous incidents
	ii) iii) iv) v) vi) Cor A.

- 28 could have prevented or reduced this fire's impact and the29 resulting loss of life.
- 30 Conference calls for:

54

- The UK Government to fully implement the Grenfell Tower Inquiry report's recommendations, including:
- a) Establishing a legal requirement to maintain a publicly accessible record of recommendations made by select committees, coroners and public inquiries plus a description of the steps taken in response, or reasons for not accepting a recommendation.
- b) Creating the office of the construction regulator, uniting regulatory and testing functions currently split between several government departments and companies.
- 41 c) Uniting the responsibilities for fire safety functions under 42 one Secretary of State and appointing a suitably qualified 43 adviser on matters affecting the construction industry.
- 44 d) A comprehensive review of the Building Regulations relating 45 to fire and the definition of 'Higher-Risk Buildings' within the 46 Building Safety Act.
- 47 e) Introducing a regulatory and competency framework for 48 the roles of Fire Engineer and Fire Risk Assessor, with the 49 creation of relevant professional bodies and professional 50 qualifications.
- 51 f) Review of how building control functions are exercised 52 in England and Wales, particularly the involvement of 53 commercial interests.
 - g) Review of the Civil Contingencies Act.
- 55 h) Creation of an independent College of Fire and Rescue.
- The UK Government to assist other bodies noted in the report implement the recommendations as relevant to them providing funding to do so.
- 59 3. Devolved and Local Governments to consider the 60 recommendations applicable to their devolved responsibilities 61 and implement these as appropriate.
- 62 4. The Metropolitan Police to conclude their investigations

63 64 65		without further delay, and the CPS to carry out prosecutions as appropriate to provide justice for the victims and their loved ones.
66 67	5.	An investigation into the role of institutional racism as a factor in the fire.

Applicability: England only; except 1. g) (line 54) and 2 (lines 56–58), which are Federal.

Background briefing:

This motion updates and develops policy on building safety in response to the Grenfell Inquiry. It builds on existing policy as set out in the general election manifesto For a Fair Deal (2024) and policy motion Safe Building Standards for all Homes (September 2017).

F39 The Clean Water Authority

- 2 'and Local Authorities'.
- 3 In vi) (line 58), delete 'next' and insert 'this'.

Amendment One

Manchester Mover: John Bridges. Summation: Alan Good.

- 1 After F. (line 45), insert:
- G. Measures to tackle the pollution of our water courses and waterways should include those to manage industrial effluents from point sources, surface water littering, and non-point sources of pollution including industrial chemicals, pesticides, fertilisers, animal manure and soil washed into streams in rainfall run-off.

- 8 After 3. g) (line 85), insert:
- 9 4. To clarify and publicise who has the responsibility for the
- 10 maintenance of inland waterways including surrounding spaces
- 11 such as towpaths and riverbanks.

Background briefing:

This motion updates and develops policy on the water industry, sewage and water courses. It builds on existing policy as set out in the general election manifesto For a Fair Deal (2024), policy paper 156, Tackling the Nature Crisis (September 2023), and policy motion Are You Drinking What We're Drinking? (March 2024).

F40 Parliamentary Parties Report: questions and accountability

Q1. Submitted by Josh Price

In the new Parliament, what policies is the Party in both Houses going to prioritise in Private Members Bills?

Q2. Submitted by Ella Jayne

How do you think the role of the House of Lords will change now we have a larger Commons parliamentary party?

Q3. Submitted by Douglas Munro

The Parliamentary party dramatically increased post-election. What operational changes are taking place to meet this challenge?

Q4. Submitted by Adam Robertson

With the Conservatives fighting for the soul of Conservatism with Nigel Farage, is the Parliamentary Party prepared to be part of the Official Opposition if the opportunity arises?

Q5. Submitted by Rebecca Jones

Now the party has won 72 seats, what will the parliamentary party do to advance trans rights in Parliament?

Q6. Submitted by Christopher Johnson

What would you say the biggest opportunity and biggest challenge have been for the parliamentary parties since last conference given the general election?

Q7. Submitted by Stephen Harte

With a record number of new staff to recruit managed by new MPs, what steps are we taking to ensure best HR practice?

Q8. Submitted by Ulysse Abbate

What actions have your committee taken to support the mental health of Members of Parliament and their staff?

Q9. Submitted by Ulysse Abbate

What actions have you taken to improve diversity and inclusion in the Parliamentary Parties and staff in Parliament?

Q10. Submitted by Abrial Jerram

Having had time to reflect, are you satisfied with the Lib Dem response to the riots?

Q11. Submitted by Abrial Jerram

Having been impressed by the effectiveness of the the parties staunch defence of the elderly during the cost of living crisis (triple lock & WFA), what are the prospects for success for using the same political skill for standing up other generations by applying the triple lock to things that effect them (e.g. minimum wage, maintenance loans, disability living allowance)?

Q12. Submitted by Abrial Jerram

With the election of Layla Moran as chair of the Health and Social Care Select Committee, how much success do you expect her to have in challenging the flawed Cass review and the even more flawed implementation of its recommendations and what can Lib Dem MPs especially the at time of writing health and education spokespeople (Daisy Cooper and Munira Wilson) do to support her in that?

Q13. Submitted by Simon Hughes

In this parliament which specific issues and subjects are regarded as matters of personal conscience with no requirement for MPs and peers to follow any party policy?

Q14. Submitted by Simon Hughes

Will both Chief Whips undertake that all relevant Standing Orders governing rights of Liberal Democrat parliamentarians to vote according to conscience will always be public documents?

Q15. Submitted by Ulysse Abbate

How will you ensure our 72 new MPs work best with our federal party and its bodies/committees?

Q19. Submitted by John Grout

Can our Parliamentary groups resolve to consult the party's registered SAO groups (such as Lib Dem Women, the Lib Dem Disability Association, LGBT+ Lib Dems, etc.) prior to meeting un-recognised or external groups which may be lobbying intensively but may also have agendas inimical to Liberal values?

Q16. Submitted by Judith Bailey

The Party is planning to produce a spokesperson's paper on the Cass Review. Can the Parliamentary Party commit to hearing voices from all sides of this debate including from parents who chose talking therapies for their gender distressed children rather than medicalisation?

Q17. Submitted by Judith Bailey

Does the Parliamentary Party accept the recommendations from the Cass Review?

Q18. Submitted by Gareth Epps

With two new MPs coming second and third in the Private Members' Bill ballot, are there plans to engage members and voters (in Gloucestershire and beyond) in choosing meaningful legislation?

Q19. Submitted by Brandon Masih

What evidence was used by health spokesperson team to agree on announcing support for zero-rating HFP sunscreen and that it would deliver savings to consumers?

F41 Tackling Child Poverty

Background briefing:

This motion updates welfare policy with regard to child poverty. It builds on existing policy as set out in the general election manifesto For a Fair Deal (2024) and policy paper 150, Towards a Fairer Society (March 2023).

Autumn Conference Welcome to the Conference Appeal

Donate to our Conference Appeal today

This Conference has been an amazing opportunity for us to celebrate our party's incredible achievements of the last year.

But it has been important for another reason too...

Looking to the future.

We have made great strides forward together in these last few years - but what we do now will truly define the future of our party.

If we are to hold onto our 72 wonderful MPs and build on our success going forward, we need your help to start campaigning and lay the foundations for further growth.

By donating to our Conference Appeal today, you'll help us get to work to support our new MPs to get ahead as quickly as possible.

Thank you - for everything you did to help us make all of this possible, and for anything you can do to keep us moving forward.
